France's Minister of Air
says He Did Not Deliver Model of 23-Millimeter
Gun to Nation of 'Reds.'

PARIS, July 10.—(AP)—France's leftist government moved only across a broad international line today.

It received from its chamber of deputies a 403-162 vote of confidence on "technical and industrial" cooperation with soviet Russia after Air Minister Pierre Cot had denied a rightist charge he had denied a secret aircraft gun to the soviet.

Diplomatic sources said the government received indirect assurances Italy would return to the European fold by joining the Locarno conferences at Brussels next week. Usually well-informed persons asserted they now considered a common European front between Italy and Germany unlikely. Officials stated they expected Premier Mussolini to send a delegate to the Locarno conference before Germany is invited to join in later phases of the talks.

Responsive French observers interpreted France's abandonment of its Mediterranean mutual assistance agreement with Great Britain as a further step toward easing the European tension. It followed, they asserted, Britain's announced intention to withdraw its home and oriental troops from the Mediterranean and that Italy may reduce its forces in Libya.

the chamber vote of confidence entered Leon Blum's government in course of international co-operation, although Cot avoided an explanation of his exact policy toward the et.

Three Persons Killed
As Train Hits Auto

EVINGTC., Tenn., July 10.—(AP)—Three men were burned to death early yesterday when "The Chickasaw," fast train Central passenger train, dashed into the rear of a coupe automobile at a crossing here. Joseph P. Ryan, president of the mighty American Federation of Labor affiliate, authorized the strike today, approximately eight months after the bitter I. L. A. strike for union recognition on the gulf coast last year.

Tenants, employees of the President, plans to bring the cruise to an end at Campobello Isle, New Brunswick, where he and his mother maintained summer homes, after a day or

One army sergeant was killed and two others burned seriously today when an army balloon crashed near Cogar, Okla., and burst into flames.

The dead: Master Sergeant Ralph J. Rumble.

The injured: Staff Sergeant Douglass M. Tucker; Staff Sergeant George Murray.

Captain F. D. Lynch escaped with minor injuries.

Tucker was burned about the shoulders and legs and Murray suffered body and leg injuries.

Private Harold Dawson, of Fort Sill, one of four soldiers following the spherical balloon in the truck, said the bag had been losing altitude and suddenly crashed into a blackjack thicket, one mile northwest of Cogar.

MISS MAMIE L. PITTS SEEKS BOARD PLACE

Veteran Principal To Run for Post From New Third Ward.

Miss Mamie L. Pitts, who was forced out of the Atlanta public school system by vote of the Board of Education after 30 years as principal of the J. Allen Couch Elementary school, yesterday announced her candidacy as school commissioner from the newly created third ward.

She spent 43 years as a teacher and principal in the local school system and retired in 1934 in order to take a pension after she had resisted unsuccessfully charges of insubordination and physical disability brought against her by Willis A. Sutton, school commissioner.

The board voted to oust her, but she retired before the expiration of the time set for her ouster. Since she left the system she has taken an active part in educational activities.

The new third ward is composed of the present first, fifth and sixth wards.

Text of Miss Pitts' announcement follows:

"I am offering for school commissioner of the newly created third ward, comprising the former first, fifth and sixth wards. Having been a teacher in the public schools for 43 years, 30 of them as principal, my familiarity with the work should be a valuable asset. Many young men and women holding positions of responsibility in the business life of the city have been my pupils and are promising my supporters."

"I elected to take a strict economy in the conduct of all departments in the public school system, seek funds for eliminating basement classrooms, and disbursement projects that tend to divert school funds from channels constructed for the benefit of the few, without regard to the purposes for which they were contributed by the taxpayers."

"It was when such men as Dr. E. J. Ronch, Hoke Smith, Captain James W. English, Robert J. Lowry, Dr. A. B. Calhoun, Judge John S. Chandler, Luther Z. Rosser, and many others gave their time and talents to helping to make the popular public school system whose foundations have withstood all the handshaking of subsequent years. It is my hope to profit by their high ideals."

Victim of Auto Mishap Laid To Rest in Family Cemetery.

Funeral services for Mrs. E. C. Thrash, prominent Atlantan and a past president of the Woman's Auxiliary, Fulton County Medical Society, were held at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the graveside in the Crouch family cemetery, Gay.

Mrs. Thrash, the wife of the late Dr. E. C. Thrash, well-known Atlanta physician, who died several years ago, succumbed Thursday at Strickland and Morris Streets. Mrs. Griffin of Morris suffered Monday in an automobile mishap on the highway between Griffin and Zebulon which also resulted in the death of her daughter, Mrs. Sappho Dobbs.

Mrs. Thrash, a native of Gay, was the former Miss Lucy Crouch. Her father, Morris Crouch, was widely known throughout the south as a cotton planter and capitalist, and her mother was the former Miss Mary Strickland, of Concord.

For many years prior to the death of Dr. Thrash, their home was the scene of a barbecue in honor of members of the medical society, an organization to which Mrs. Thrash devoted many years as an auxiliary leader.

It was when such men as Dr. E. J. Ronch, Hoke Smith, Captain James W. English, Robert J. Lowry, Dr. A. B. Calhoun, Judge John S. Chandler, Luther Z. Rosser, and many others gave their time and talents to helping to make the popular public school system whose foundations have withstood all the handshaking of subsequent years. GEORGIA MARBLE
FOR COURTHOUSE

Famous Stone To Be Used Largely in Erection of Gainesville Building.

Georgia marble will be used liberally in the construction of Hall county's new $181,000 courthouse at Gainesville, it was said yesterday at the offices of Daniell & Beutell, Atlanta architects who designed the building.

The building will be faced with marble and marble will be used in the stairs and wainscoting. The building will be a modernistic version of Greek architecture. It will also be about one-third larger than the old courthouse, destroyed by the recent tornado.

Contracts for the building will be finally approved by the first of next week, it was announced yesterday by J. Houston Johnston, acting state director of the PWA, which is sharing the cost of the new building. The contracts have been checked by government engineers and accountants and sent to Gainesville for the signatures of officials.

ATLANTA, GA., JULY 11, 1936.

TORRIDITY NOTHING NEW

Torrid temperatures of the past week, which have registered above
the 100 mark in Washington, Philadelphia and New York, and higher recordings in the middle west,
where humanity sweltered and vegetation withered under extremes as high as 120, have the effect of inclining us to think that this is the worst heat spell of a century.

But it is no worse than other visitations of extreme heat waves.
In their present discomfort older persons are likely to forget other torrid summers.

On July 4, 1850, Zachary Taylor, president of the United States, attended the unveiling ceremonies incident to laying the cornerstone of the Washington monument. The thermometer registered 105. The President was prostrated by the extreme heat and died as a result.

We think it hot, and it is; but that is nothing new. History, politics and the weather repeat over and over again.

Government scientists, tracing records of heat and drouth by means of the ring growth of trees, disclose that for some 3,000 years
these disturbing manifestations of nature have run in cycles, and so they will continue for thousands of years.

We will have recurring severe and mild winters, and recurring torrid and mild summers. There is no need worrying about it, because nothing can be done to avoid these extremes.

Simply make yourself as comfortable as possible and occupy your mind with something worth while—and your discomfort will be much less.

There is an abundance of satisfaction to be gained from the knowledge that the southeast is to day the coolest part of the United States. Temperatures here are lower than in the east and from 10 to 20 degrees lower than in the midwest and northwest.

We should not complain about the kind of weather we are having,
but should instead rejoice that we are not suffering from the blistering heat and the sultry nights that are bringing real suffering in other sections.

NO MORE WAR FOR US.

In an address before the Institute of Public Affairs of the University of Virginia, P. H. W. Almy, an English barrister, expressed the opinion that America will find it impossible to remain neutral in the event of a general European war.

However, this British spokesman qualifies his statement with the following comment that "neutrality
may keep you out of the fighting lines, but it will not keep you out of the bankruptcy courts; you may save your lives, but you will not save your souls, and certainly you will not save your investments and your bank balances."

Apparently, Mr. Almy is possessed of the idea that American peace and prosperity are basically dependent upon conditions in Europe—
a premise contrary to facts.

It is true that the well-being of American business, like that of every other nation in this time of lessening world distances, is dependent to a degree upon a profitable foreign trade, but America is too great, too vast in its expanse and resources and too self-dependent for it to be impossible for us to keep peace with the rest of the world, or hold to an even economic balance, merely because the turbulent nations of Europe might again become engaged in war.

If there is one thing in the world that is certain it is that the people of the United States, and the government of the country, still pay for the mistake of our entry into the World War, will never become again involved in a foreign situation that, in the last analysis,
is none of our business.

Any plans that may be laid, or any hopes entertained, by European leaders looking to the involvement of America in another war will go for naught. We have learned our lesson, and we are fully able to go about our own business, whether or not the devil's brew of European hatreds and jealousies boils
over again.

DROUGHT AID FOR GEORGIA.

While there exists no such critical condition of distress on the farms of Georgia as is faced by those of the midwest and northwest,
as a result of the devastating drouth and heat of this summer, there are certain sections of the state where acute suffering will come unless aid is extended.

It is important, therefore, that the federal government in making preparations to care for the more serious and far-reaching distress among the farmers of the western states should not overlook the equally distressed but less numerous farmers of Georgia who are also the suffers from crop-destroying weather conditions.

Not only are the small farmers in the drouth sections of Georgia suffering, but the workers on the large plantations are involved. The owners of many of the plantations have abandoned the share-cropper plan
and pay their field hands monthly wages. These plantation operators have already incurred the heavy expense of planting and fertilizing their ground and, with no return in sight, will be unable to continue to pay their employees unless they receive aid. Their only recourse will be to discharge the workers who would then be forced to go on relief.

The farmers of no state in the Union have co-operated more whole-heartedly than those of Georgia with the program of the Department of Agriculture, and it is but just that those who are in distress should receive equal consideration with those of other sections.

AN OBJECT LESSON.

That farmers who failed and were "wiped out" during the height of the depression can "come back" to economic independence if assisted in making a start and coached along
the right lines of a sound program, has been demonstrated by the Federal Resettlement Administration project at Irwinville.

Forty-three carefully selected farm families began the task of rehabilitating themselves in that south Georgia section a year ago, cultivating 2,000 acres under the direction of W. P. Bryan, who put into use methods which won him the title of Georgia's master farmer in 1928.

With the aid of favorable weather,
and following the program mapped out by Mr. Bryan the Irwinville farmers today have good stands of tobacco and cotton; fields of tall
corn, and an abundance of potatoes, watermelons, cantaloupes and other produce. Hogs they raised were disposed of at a good profit, with a nucleus of good brood sows and pure-bred sires to increase their production of swine.

The initial 43 families of the resettlement project now number 84,
with a total of 10,000 acres available for their use.

The success of this experiment is concrete evidence that "it can be done," in short, there is not only a good living to be made on the farm, but the farmer who adopts a sound program and works at it the year through is better off than the average individual who works the year round for wages.

Drouth and other natural conditions frequently beset the farmer and make his lot hard to surmount,
but even then he is in far better circumstances than his city brother who is thrown out of employment and must depend upon federal relief to keep a cover over his head and provide against starving.

There are numerous such resettlement projects throughout the nation and all are proving, as has that of Irwinville, that the better class of farmers who failed during the hard-times period can be assisted back to independence, and having been put on their feet will be able to travel alone in the future.

BIRTH OF F. F. V.

One hundred and five immigrants arrived in 1867 at the mouth of Chesapeake bay in the ship Constant. Goodspeed and Discovery, to set themselves up as the First English Colonies of Virginia. They were given a cordial welcome by the real people who had been there for many centuries, and a few days later they established the first permanent English settlement in America—Jamestown.

ROBINSON CRUSOE.

The first edition of Robinson Crusoe was published in 1719, and immediately began pulling up a record
as the best selling novel of all time.
It had appeared first as a newspaper serial, having been written as back-work by 58-year-old Daniel Foe, an ex-convict and bankrupt, who was nevertheless the most distinguished journalist of his time. He was a snob, too, when first cast, he changed his name to Defoe because he was ashamed of the humble position of his father, a butcher.

World's Window
BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

Mr. Alexander's Prophecy.

Mr. H. A. Alexander, the eminent Atlanta attorney, who was recently honored by his fellow members of B'nai B'rith, the great Jewish fraternal organization, upon the completion of 20 years of service, predicted the next generation of Jews that the United States will be the finest and noblest generation of that age-old people to have lived anywhere. That was a bold prophecy to make, if one thinks for a moment of the grandeur of Babylon, Greece and Jerusalem itself, not to mention the Persian Empire and the Hassanah period in Germany. Mr. Alexander, if correctly quoted by the reporter, apparently believes that favorable material conditions will be instrumental in raising the niveau of Judaism as a result of the assimilation of the Jews into the American life.

But the technical fault behind the situation now is that the republicans have waited so long—while the efficient democratic publicity
set-up has been functioning full blast, playing up such things as drouth relief and hogging the headlines.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS
BY PAUL MALLON.

DELAY.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—The republicans had plenty of inside troubles seeking a publicity duel with the fire-breathing democratic publicist, Charles Michelson.

Three outstanding men are understood to have turned it down before the fourth, cool, capable, experienced A. H. Kirchofer, Buffalo editor, was induced to accept. Two of the decliners are advertising agency men and the third a businessman. The job would have required personal sacrifices for them.

Then, also, the master minds who are framing the Landon campaign are supposed to have differed sharply on the fundamental issue of whether they wanted an advertising man or a newsman. The choice of Mr. Kirchofer is a triumph for the news school from which Mr. Michelson also graduated.

But the technical fault behind the situation now is that the republicans have waited so long—while the efficient democratic publicity
set-up has been functioning full blast, playing up such things as drouth relief and hogging the headlines.

WINDFALL.

The delay in perfecting the republican publicity organization may or may not prove to be important.

Al Smith discovered in his 1928 campaign that he had insufficient time for the nomination and the election to promote his cause fully. That is why his angel, Mr. Raskob, put up the money to hire Michelson immediately after the 1928 defeat and Michelson was kept at the job of preparing the public mind for three long years before he switched over to President Roosevelt.

The situation this time is not exactly comparable. The republicans have enjoyed a publicity windfall. They have received a lot of unintentional help from anti-Roosevelt propaganda organizations like the American Liberty League.

In other words, the seed has been sown. Mr. Kirchofer's job probably will be to nurture rather than to plant.

PERSONAL PHASE.

Postmaster General Farley's leave of absence from the postmaster generalship is only technical. Rubber stamps were prepared in the Postoffice Department two weeks ago carrying the signature of "William W. Howes, Acting Postmaster General." That step marked the full extent of the change.

Postmaster General Farley's desk to Postmaster General Farley's headquarters in New York, and they will be operated. There is no possibility of a disagreement between the two about what should be done in the Postoffice Department.

The only practical difference Mr. Farley's departure will make is that he will lose about $4,000 salary between now and election day.
This is a big difference to him, his friends claim. They say this explains why he tarried so long, and why he wants to come back after election.

It is understood he looked around New York for a lucrative private job which might keep the wolf away from his mansion, but did not find anything politically suitable. He gets $15,000 a year as postmaster general and nothing as chairman of the national committee of the New York state committee. His expenses are heavy.

FUTILITY.

The League of Nations rescue squad will be unhappy to learn, as our most eminent authorities have, that Mr. Hitler is playing around with Poland to deal the League another blow.

Der Furore is supposed to be working through the Nazi president of the Danzig parliament to have the League commission removed from it which is laughingly but officially called the Danzig free state. He does not care what the League thinks about that, because no one cares what the League thinks about Poland. This understanding is being promoted along the lines of guaranteeing the Poles their economic rights and standing in Danzig in return for Hitler's assumption of political rights.

Even if it does not work out, the mere suggestion is enough to illustrate the futility of anything worth while coming out of present moves to save the League.

At Geneva they will save the husk of it to hide their faces, but the husk is transparent.

NO PICTURES.

Dr. Rexford Guy Tugwell has become camera shy.
Although he has been pushed up front in the Washington picture again by the resettlement activities in drouth relief, he generally requires photographers to snap him on the run.

When one asked him to pose the other day, he replied:

"What! Me a fashion plate again?"

The swiftness with which he disappeared indicated the answer.

SILHOUETTES
BY RALPH T. JONES.

When you're trying to write in rhythm,

A verse that will be, so-and-so,
There's always a pest, God forgive
'em,

Who turns on that blatant, per-turbing,

Pestiferous, meter disturbing,
Radio!

I'll Not Be An Alibi.

For the benefit of a lady who telephoned to my home last Tuesday night to permit me to itemize, herewith,
my activities of Monday night.

I left the office Monday night at approximately seven o'clock and went to a restaurant on Marietta street, where I ate the evening meal.

Returning to the office, I worked at my desk and typewriter until about 10 o'clock, when I decided the day's work was done, telephoned to my home and asked them to meet me with the car, at my regular street car stop. Rode a North Decatur car to the McDonough stop, stepped from the trolley and walked home. Went home. Sat around talking for perhaps thirty minutes and, to bed, to bed, to sleep and, perhaps, to dream.

My routine the following night was about the same. And, before I reached home Tuesday, the lady in question called up there. Over the telephone she sounded, my family reported, as though she was weeping. She asked for me and, when they told her I had not come home, she told them her name.

"Last night," she said, between sobs,
"my husband told me he was going out with Ralph Jones. He went off and never came home all night. In fact he hasn't come home yet and I haven't seen him from him. What will you do?"

But I do want to put all husbands on notice, they can't be as recalcitrant as alibi. Now, if you want someone to entertain their attractive wives while they are away—

Here's Coincidence.

This story really begins last March and, of course, I knew nothing of it until a few days ago.

The family in question, husband,
wife and one son, came to Atlanta from the east. Husband is a traveling salesman, wife a housewife and son a boy, about 10 years old.

CRUELTY TO CHILDREN IS CHARGED TO MOTHER

One Child Found Tied With Dog Collar in Airless Room.

PHILADELPHIA, July 10.—(AP)—Wrathful women threatened and jeered a young mother today as policemen old of finding her two baby sons virtual prisoners, frantic from heat and thirst, in an airless, top-floor room. The child was tied with a dog collar and a rope.

Mrs. Marion Shanks, small, blonde woman of 29, only smiled mischievously when Magistrate Edward J. Holland asked for an explanation. He had to warn a tense crowd to maintain order. Then he held the mother and her companion, William Davis, 39, in $800 bail each on charges of cruelty to children. A cry of "killer" or "kill her" rang out in the crowded police courtroom.

Sergeant Frank Harkins and Patrolman Herbert Walker told of forcing their way into the house after neighbors told them of hearing the children's pitiful cries.

"I was tested as I got in the room," Walker testified. "The older child, John, 4, cried: 'Water, water, give me a drink.' I got some water before set him free and both of the babies drank two cups as quick as they could pull them down."

The smaller child, crying in his crib, was in the cuffs. Sergeant Harkins said, held by a dog collar to which a rope was tied. The rope was fastened near the floor.

Walker told the magistrate "conditions in the room were terrible. There was only one window and that was only a few inches. It was covered with chicken wire. It was so hot you could hardly breathe."

Miss Lillian Peachey, agent of the society to protect the children from cruelty, testified two other children of the women were being cared for by others. The magistrate gave her the custody of the two little boys.

ROOSEVELT TO ATTEND DOWNTOWN WEDDING TODAY

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(AP)—The marriage of Minster Ruth Bryan to Kammerjunker Captain George Rohde of the Danish King's Life Guards will take place at 5 p. m. tomorrow at the Hyde Park Episcopal church attended by President Roosevelt.

Both the President and Mrs. Roosevelt will attend the ceremony and will entertain for Mrs. Owen at a wedding supper which will follow immediately.

Fannie Hurst, the novelist, will attend. Mrs. Owen and Robert Lehman, the minister's son-in-law, will be best man.

Runs for Council Again

FRANK WILSON SEEKS COUNCIL RE-ELECTION

Thirteenth Ward Member To Run for Post From New Sixth.

Frank Wilson, thirteenth ward councilman since 1929, yesterday announced his candidacy for one of the two councilmanic positions from the newly created sixth ward subject to the municipal primary, September 2.

The new sixth ward is composed of the ninth and thirteenth wards.

Wilson has been chairman of the motor transportation committee of council since he became a member of the city's governing body, and has had considerable influence in keeping costs down. He is regarded as one of the most progressive council members and one of the most insistent on economic progress.

He is a product of Tech High School and was graduated from the University of Georgia. He is a life long resident of Atlanta, and since he became affiliated in business circles has been connected with building supply firms.

He is a member of Piedmont Lodge, F. & A. M., and of Druid Hills Baptist church.

"I wish to take this opportunity to announce my candidacy for a new term as a member of city council," Wilson said yesterday. "I have tried consistently to insist that the city be open to a business basis, that service within its income and that service be provided for all."

"My record itself will better acquaint voters of this than any words I might have to say regarding my stewardship. I invite the voters to scrutinize my record, and then vote for the person they believe will best serve the best interests of the city and the citizens."

Wilson is a member of the tax, sewer and aviation committees as well as holding membership on the newly created special safety commission, designed to reduce accidents in Atlanta and curb the death rate.

SERVICES FOR DR. BAIRD WILL BE HELD TODAY

Funeral services for Dr. James M. Baird, prominent Columbus (Ga.) physician, will be held at 11 o'clock this morning at the First Baptist church, Columbus.

Rev. Robert C. Porter will officiate, and burial will be in the Columbus cemetery.

Dr. Baird was the father of Dr. J. Mason Baird, well-known Atlanta physician; W. Neal Baird, Atlanta attorney, and J. Emmett Baird, of Columbus. He had been in failing health for the past year.

A native of Kentucky, Dr. Baird attended the Kentucky School of Medicine, and later attended the University of Vienna. He was a long-time resident of Columbus, and a deacon of the First Baptist church.

LESTER ASKS ELECTION AS ATTORNEY GENERAL

Augustan Launches Cam- paign for State Office in Speech Delivered Here.

Promising to set up a bureau of identification in the state department; law to co-operate with peace officers over the state, William M. Lester, of Augusta, last night opened his campaign for attorney general with a speech delivered here.

The Augusta senator said that while the law does not require such a set-up he believed it would prove a great crime deterrent and he planned to organize the fingerprint bureau if elected.

"One of the assistant attorneys general to be selected by me will be a fingerprint expert and we will have on file at the capitol the records of all known criminals," the candidate said.

Special Counsel Barred.

In launching his campaign the candidate also called attention to the provisions of the 1931 reorganization act of Georgia prohibiting departments or state from employing special counsel to act on their behalf.

"If I am elected there will be no need for special counsel," he asserted. "The state department of law will handle all legal matters connected with the various departments and an unbiased opinion will be given to all who ask our legal advice."

Later, in a speech to a part of the people of this state as a candidate for attorney general, the senator reviewed his record in the general assembly.

Studied New Laws.

In connection with his appointment at the last session of the general assembly to a special committee on reorganization, he went to Washington to ascertain the legislation needed in this state for co-operation with the federal government, and the senator stated he had been giving careful study to the various acts he had been introduced.

He promised that the department of law, under him, would be available for advice and information to the members of the general assembly as to the constitutionality and legality of such measures.

"I will endeavor during the campaign to visit as many sections of the state as possible and to personally meet the people. I have no desire to punish or reward," he said. "The department of law, under me as attorney general, will at all times endeavor to serve in unity with those seeking better conditions, better understanding and greater opportunity for the people. In this, his efforts, perseverance and united co-operation, we will be able to advance our state and secure the benefits of the new social era in which we are entering. I am looking forward to serving you in this manner as your next attorney general."

Wilson is a member of the tax, sewer and aviation committees as well as holding membership on the newly created special safety commission, designed to reduce accidents in Atlanta and curb the death rate.

Court of Appeals Reverses Lower Court in Guardianship Case.

Whether or not the Citizens & Southern National Bank is due compensation for transactions as guardian for John W. Bryan, 11, a minor, for a jury to decide, the Georgia court of appeals held yesterday.

The bank filed a petition with the ordinary of Houston county asking to be discharged from the guardianship since Marshall had become of age.

Marshall asked that the guardianship be continued until a full accounting was given.

The case was transferred by consent from the ordinary to Houston county superior court.

In his petition young Marshall charged the illegal purchase of certain bonds of Wesleyan College and the Main Street Methodist church in Macon. He also charged that the bank failed to provide sufficient money for him to continue his studies at the Citadel, at Charleston, S. C., and he had to discontinue his school work.

The court of appeals in reversing the lower court's decision which threw the case out on motion of the bank, held that Marshall could not attack purchase of the bonds because of the approval of the transaction by court order.

In remanding the case back for jury trial the appellate court held that whether or not the guardian had been negligent in failing to withdraw the funds from school because of lack of funds, "is a matter which may be considered on the question of the amount of compensation to be allowed the property guardian."

Marshall became of age in January, 1935.

ATLANTAN IS RESCUED FROM ST. JOHNS RIVER

An Atlanta girl and two boating party companions were saved from drowning late Thursday in St. Johns river when a fourth member of the party swam a mile to shore to get aid after the sailboat in which they were riding capsized.

Miss Frances Glore, of 706 Virginia circle, N. E., clung to the overboard boat for two hours. Miss Sarah Lovett and David Close of Jacksonville, owner of the craft, while Gibbs Veren, of Jacksonville, swam to shore and sent a motorboat to rescue the other three.

Close's 18-foot "Bounty" was capsized by sudden strong gust of wind, he reported, as the party was sailing in the craft a mile off the DuPont estate. No ill effects were suffered by the members of the party, he was reported.

'BUG' SEEKERS FOILED; NAB WHISKY, CAR, 2 MEN

Instead of capturing a few "bug" operators, as they started out to do, Detectives J. P. Jones and Dock Sims of the special morning ride of their "take" in a new automobile with 12 gallons of liquor and arrested two negroes, charged with disorderly conduct, possession of whisky.

The officers reported they discovered the two negroes unloading the whisky from the car at the corner of Old White street and Boulevard. The negroes were listed as James Colonna, of 154 Auburn avenue, and Will Hill, of 67 Boulevard, N. E.

ARMY ORDERS

New Regents' Member

E. ORMONDE HUNTER INDUCTED INTO REGENTS' BOARD

Savannah Attorney Takes Office; Only Routine Busi- ness Conducted.

E. Ormonde Hunter, Savannah attorney and newly appointed member of the state board of regents, was formally inducted into a meeting yesterday afternoon at the state capital.

Only routine business was taken up.

Mr. Hunter is a member of the law firm of Conner and Hunter. He is a past president of the Savannah Bar Association and was counsel for the WPA War loan captain in the S2d division of artillery. He is a brother of Major Frank O'D (Monk) Hunter, famous World War ace. His law firm is one of the best known in Savannah.

He was born in Savannah in 1882 and is a graduate of Yale University, Princeton, and the University of Georgia law school, graduating in 1917 with highest honors.

Was Aide de Camp.

During the war he was aide de camp to the Major General Swift, who was from Savannah in 1917. From 1921 through 1922 he was a member of the Georgia house from Chatham county. He was assistant city attorney under Mayor Thomas M. Hoyne. He was a member of the board of trustees of the University of Georgia Alumni Society. He is also a member of the Chatham county democratic executive committee. He is a member of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and of the Elks.

Judge Franklin, who seeks to oppose Judge Enoch Graham, of McRae, a candidate for re-election, telephoned his entry on July 4, the day the entries closed. Chairman Howell rejected it because he did not submit in writing a letter pledging his support to an applicant nomination.

Members of the rules committee are Lindley W. Camp, of Marietta; Charles E. Stewart, of Douglas; W. S. Mann, of McRae; John E. Whaley, of LaGrange; E. W. Maynard, of Macon; Mrs. C. Z. Harden, of Ashburn; Shelia Myrick, of Savannah; and R. B. McWhorter, of Greenboro.

Clark Howell Sr., democratic national committeeman, and Mrs. Virginia Polhill Price, national committeewoman, are ex-officio members of the rules committee.

RAILROAD VETERAN, E. J. YOUNG, PASSES

Four nationally known home loan finance leaders will pass through Atlanta this morning en route to Rome for the Georgia Building & Loan League convention Monday and Tuesday.

He was stricken ill several days ago while visiting his daughter, Mrs. Vernon M. Cooper, of 4 Seventeenth Street, Atlanta.

Young, a native of New York, had lived in Mississippi for many years. He was a roundhouse foreman for the railroad for the past 25 years, and was a Shriner and a Knight Templar.

Besides Mrs. Cooper, he is survived by his wife; another daughter, Mrs. Walter McEwen, of Nashville; two sons, John W. and Oren C. Young, and five grandchildren.

Funeral rites will be held in Clarkdale, where the body will be taken at 3:40 o'clock this afternoon, under direction of Brandon-Bond and & Condon.

RYBURN CLAY IS HOST TO BANKERS AT 'CUE

Rybun Clay, Atlanta banker, was yesterday afternoon a member of the banking bankers of the city at a barbecue at his country home on the Chattahoochee river.

The entertainment followed the regular meeting of the board of directors of the Federal Reserve Bank and guests included the president of the Federal Reserve and other banks of the city.

Only routine matters were taken up at the board meeting, according to Oscar Newton, governor of the district.

CAR STOP IS PROVIDED AT BLIND 'LIGHHOUSE'

The executive committee for the next year will be as follows: B. L. Youmans, Jessup, chairman; Dr. H. D. Youmans, Lyons, vice chairman; R. B. Riner, secretary-treasurer; George L. Youmans, Lexington; George L. Youmans, Lexington; W. H. Youmans, Collins; J. L. Brown, Metter; I. W. Rountree, Swainsboro; and Jim L. Gillis of Soperton.

A committee for a genealogical study will be composed of W. H. Youmans, Collins; J. L. Brown, Metter, and Mrs. Dr. Luther A. DeLoach, of Savannah.

The address of the day was delivered by Attorney General M. J. Youmans, of Waycross, the welcome address by I. W. Rountree, of Swainsboro, and the response by Dr. H. D. Youmans, of Lyons.

FILMS CATCH ON FIRE, THREE BURN TO DEATH

Cigaret Blamed for Fatal Blaze as Children Crowd Around Movie Machine.

HATTIESBURG, Miss., July 10.—(AP)—A cigarette carelessly tossed into an uncoiled mass of films during the amateur showing of a motion picture brought death to three small children and serious burns to four of their companions.

Raymond Kahler, 6, closest to the picture machine, died last night, and the tragedy resulted from the gay "home movie" party Wednesday night was increased by the death of Marvin Massengale, 7, and Bobby Francis Fisher, 6.

It was a happy group that gathered at the home of H. W. McLeod to try out 14-year-old James Fairchild's new moving picture machine.

The projector was planted on a chair and a large white pillow case was pressed into service for a screen. The children, 20 in all, gathered intently around for the show.

All eyes were fastened on the machine when someone dropped the lighted cigarette. It fell into the heap of film at the base of the chair. A small flame shot up and spread like wild fire. Within a split second the flames leaped to the clothing of the nearest child.

In the outer circles fled from the room. Several parents in another part of the house heard the screams, rushed to the room and frantically smothered the children's burning garments. Mrs. McLeod dashed to the kitchen for water. Within a few moments the fire was out, but the children appeared severely burned, but they were rushed away for medical treatment.

Yesterday, young Kahler's condition grew worse and he died last night. His two companions, Marvin and Bobby, also died.

The other four, Jean and Marlene Shambarger, Betty Jean Belcher and young Kahler's sister, Virgie, are still under medical care, but it was believed they will recover.

No grown persons were in the room when the fire started.

2 KILLED, 3 INJURED IN YACHT EXPLOSION

18-Month-Old Baby Burned to Death; Another Is Drowned.

WHITESTONE, N. Y., July 10.—(AP)—Three babies were killed and three women were seriously injured by a gas tank explosion which wrecked the yacht "Commodore" in Long Island sound late today.

Patricia Irene Brown, 18-month-old, was burned to death as flames spread through the 50-foot cabin cruiser first.

Nine-month-old Jessie Newberry was drowned as the explosion catapulted the infant and two of the women into the water, their clothing afire.

Harbor squad police still were grappled for her body tonight.

The injured woman was Mrs. Doris Newberry, 18-year-old mother of the child who suffered second-degree burns; Mrs. Charles Pettit, 48, Mrs. Newberry's mother, who suffered a fractured leg, and Mrs. Irene Brown, mother of Patricia Irene Brown, who had a fractured back.

The other occupants of the craft were Ernest Smith, captain and engineer, and Charles Pettit, Mrs. Pettit's husband, whose injuries were minor. John Brown, of New York city, owner of the yacht and husband of the injured woman, was not aboard.

The accident occurred shortly after the "Commodore" had stopped "to do" in this Long Island town to load up with 250 gallons of gasoline.

Smith told investigators he believed that some of the gasoline spilled and was ignited by a hot motor.

FOREST FIRES GAIN HEADWAY IN WEST

Officials Investigate Reports of Incendiary in Wyoming.

SUNDANCE, Wyo., July 10.—(AP)—Federal forestry officials investigated reports of incendiary tonight as the forest fire which has raged near here since Sunday leaped madly made fire and cracked through new territory.

"I hate to say it, but it seems possible somebody may have set these fires," said Tech Cochran, forest ranger. "We are checking up on all strangers and ordered a bunch of 'floaters' out of town last night."

Officials said it was possible the "floaters" had been started by unemployed men seeking jobs. Hastily recruited fighters have been paid 30 cents an hour.

The fire, believed under control earlier today, hurled a five-foot clearing laboriously cut by workers as the wind veered from southwest to east.

Eleven 100-foot high jumps of the fire lane.

All other blazes in Wyoming and Montana were declared by officials to be under control or entirely extinguished.

COTTON LOANS OFF

U. S. Will Not Renew Them Due to Good Price.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(AP)—The Commodity Credit Corporation announced its 10 to 9-cent loans on 1935-36 cotton, maturing July 31, would not be renewed and that payment would be expected promptly at maturity.

Only a small number of loans were made under the 1935-36 program, the corporation said. It holds 90,221 loans security for the loans.

"At the present prices for spot cotton," the announcement said, "producers should have substantial equities in the cotton crop to secure these loans and should be in position to pay the amount of the loans plus interest and proper charges."

SOUTH CAROLINA TO LET ROAD BIDS ON JULY 28

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 10.—(AP)—State highway officials made public plans today for the largest road construction lettings in pre-depression days under a 1936 highway law.

Chief Commissioner Ben Sawyer said the highway department would take bids July 28 for $2,718,767 in construction under a letting that would entail approximately a year of work to carry out.

He said that there would be no subsequent lettings as fast as road engineering forces could prepare plans and surveys for projects under a $14,000,000 program outlined by the legislature.

The federal government will finance a large portion of the July 28 lettings. Federal funds will be used to finance 50 of the 43 projects wholly or in part.

Music Neither Soothes Nor Cools Hot Hearing on Rehashed Tunes

Postoffice Officials Find Piano Out of Tune, Melodies Rotten and Voices Worse at Trial of Melody Mechanic.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(UPI)—The songs that Tin Pan Alley rejected, sounded just as bad—or maybe worse—to the postoffice department today.

It was a hot day, the piano was out of tune and Elliott Shapiro, who got "You Haven't Bananas" in an appreciative world, was in a bad voice. The results approached the disastrous.

He was called as an expert witness by the government in the case of the Postoffice vs. Universal Song Service of Hollywood vs. Cal, charged with being a bad neighbor and refused to pay songs of amateur composers for $50 a revision and offered same for sale to the movies.

Shapiro admitted that Cohen personally had composed three hit songs, "Canadian Capers," "Why, Dear?" and "Are You Playing Fair?"

Donnelly handed the witness another song, "Tell Me So?" also written by Cohen, and asked him to examine it.

"Ta-ta-da-dum," wailed Shapiro, reading the notes, "Ta-ta-ra-ra-de-bum."

"That's terrible," observed Donnelly.

"Maybe Mr. Donnelly could do better," retorted O'Brien.

Donnelly said that he certainly could, and without half trying, either. He didn't though. Instead he passed to Shapiro another ballad entitled "It's a Sin to Tell a Lie." He asked whether the firm of Shapiro and Bernstein would be interested, maybe, in purchasing it.

"Certainly not," Shapiro said. "It's pretty good song, but I would not accept it because I did not like the word 'sin.' That word can get a musical publisher in a real bind."

"I want to know just why your dimples come and go—so—honey, why is she so sly with rolling eyes?"

"This is awful," interrupted W. C. O'Brien, the postoffice attorney, who called Shapiro as a witness. "Why, I object to his singing myself."

It was a hot day, a very hot day, at the postoffice department.

Thomas' address was prepared for broadcast over an NBC network.

RELEASE IS GIVEN KIDNAPING SUSPECT

Woman Out on $2,000 Bond for District Court.

NORFOLK, Va., July 10.—(AP)—Mrs. Belle Bennett, also known as Mrs. Clegg, 35, of Sutton and Mrs. Belle Bennett, was released from the Norfolk county jail today on $2,000 bond for her appearance before Judge Luther B. Way, of the United States district court, July 17 to answer a charge of kidnaping.

She was arrested Wednesday for federal authorities in New Bern, N. C., and taken to the Norfolk county jail by Deputy United States Marshal W. A. Buckard, of the Norfolk police force.

Harry Nicholson, attorney for Mrs. Bennett, said today he might ask Judge Way to dismiss the New Bern warrant and another warrant issued by the same court which could bring her to trial as well as to the court to force her to sell the $100,000 bond.

Mrs. Gloria Vanderbilt, who waged a long and unsuccessful fight on behalf of the two children, was fined $100.

The trial, which was adjourned to July 17, was signed by Surrogate James A. Foley, Cornelius Vanderbilt, the other co-executor of the Ringling estate.

She set forth that she had made repeated efforts to obtain the money which she said, was willed her by her mother-in-law, Alice G. Vanderbilt, in an instrument probated May 29, 1934. The estate is estimated to be worth about $100,000.

The trial, which was adjourned to July 17, was signed by Surrogate James A. Foley, Cornelius Vanderbilt, the other co-executor of the Ringling estate.

ROOSEVELT ANNOUNCES PUBLIC WORK CHANGES

PWA Building Projects Financed Only When Relief Needy Are Employed.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(UP) President Roosevelt ruled today, over PWA objections, that the Public Works Administration may finance building projects with its $300,000,000 and only when construction will employ relief men.

The PWA, however, proposed even to the PWA officials, made Harold L. Ickes director of a strictly work-relief agency and delayed his program.

The ruling had these results, all significant:

1. PWA or the Works Progress Administration will compile relief roll lists of some 4,000 project applicants, determining whether the cities have enough jobless labor to build PWA projects.

2. PWA and WPA were placed in position where they must co-operate, situation causing the "battle of billions" last year between Ickes and PWA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins.

3. The move, revealed the new $25,000,000 work-relief appropriation will not be sufficient to provide all needs through the entire fiscal year, and new funds will be necessary.

The development came after PWA placed $85,000,000 worth of projects on Mr. Roosevelt's desk, waiting by his final approval before receiving outright federal grants of 45 percent of their total cost.

Ickes had chosen the projects from among the PWA applications for their social construction development and social desirability. In all, he had planned to finance 4,000 projects on that basis.

Under authorization from the last session of congress, PWA had been entirely divorced from the new work-relief program. PWA was to operate separately from Hopkins. PWA under personal direction of the President, Mr. Roosevelt's plans, however, developed today's ruling that employment of relief roll men should be the determining factor in distribution of PWA's $300,000,000.

PWA reluctantly presented Hopkins' relief roll figures for application, but the White House asked for more and more complete information. PWA officials indicated they may be forced to go direct to cities for these statistics.

The result would be to place a number of cities in a bind, because, without enough jobless men skilled in a type of work necessary to build PWA-financed bridge or schoolhouse, could not share in the construction program.

PWA officials said that they may able to start distributing money to the most competitive few projects within a week, whereas, they had planned to announce $85,000,000 in allocations to 1,000 political subdivisions this week.

PWA's $300,000,000 is its own money, coming from the sale of municipal bonds it took as security for relief loans under previous programs.

Under the $4,000,000,000 program, PWA was required to employ relief roll labor where it was available. If no could be obtained, however, Ickes is empowered to use workmen not listed as jobless.

Georgian's Concrete Cotton Patch Shows One Way To Beat Drouth

Experiment Began by Accident Four Years Ago When LaGrange Warehouse Man Discovered Sturdy Growth Coming Up Through Cracks in Floor.

LAGRANGE, Ga., July 10.—(AP)—L. E. Floyd looks proudly to his concrete cotton patch as the possible forerunner of a new era in southern farming.

Thirty splendid stalks are growing up through small holes broken in a concrete loading platform in the rear of a cotton warehouse operated by Floyd.

The plants are of several varieties, are about twice as large as stalks on nearby farms and bear from twice to four times as many bolls. Unlike nearly all the growth in this section, they are not withered or browned by excessive dryness although they have extensive root systems.

Floyd started his experiment by accident four years ago. Some seeds from stored cotton dropped through cracks in the concrete. He was surprised when the plants flourished and matured without attention.

As proof of the practical worth of his idea he cites Hawaiian pineapple growers' use of a fibrous sheeting on the fields.

Cotton specialists of the State Department of Agriculture are following his experiment with interest.

ATLANTA THEATER NEWS

'Green Pastures Opens

Run at Fox Theater

The reverent sincerity which made "The Green Pastures" one of the greatest theatrical attractions of modern times is retained in the celluloid version which opened yesterday at the Fox theater.

This fable by Roark Bradford's tales of the negroes in the deep south, "Old Man Adam and His Chillun," is brought to the screen with the increased power made possible by the film.

The film follows the stage production faithfully, beginning with the Sunday school class of negro children, to whom the teacher is relating the story of the Bible, and unfolding those simple, but reverent, souls' conception of God and the Kingdom of Heaven.

Able directed by Connolly and William Keighley, and added the fine photoplay touches of Hal March, to whom the teacher is relating the story of the Bible, and unfolding those simple, but reverent, souls' conception of God and the Kingdom of Heaven.

Yanks Rout Indians; Cards Nose Out Giants To Retain Lead

NEWSOM BLANKS
DETROIT TIGERS
IN ONE HIT, 5 TO 0

Hrig's 2 Homers Pace
McCarthymen; White
Sox Defeat Boston.

NEW YORK, July 10.—(P)—The Yanks took sweet revenge today on Cleveland Indians, smashing out 10 hits, including four homers, to win an 18-to-10 victory behind Harry Ruffing's seven-hit pitching. Slumped yesterday by Cleveland, the New York "Murderers" belted Tribe pitching all over today, with Lou Gehrig setting pace by pointing out home runs, 22nd and 23rd of the season, to the major league lead away from Jimmie Foxx and Hal Trosky.

DiMaggio and Bill Dickey each ended out one round-trip blow to win Gehrig's pace.

Winning Ruffing's 11th of the year, his third shutout, the Yanks games in front of the American League pack again, since both the Detroit Tigers and Boston Red Sox, nearest rivals, were defeated today. The lone scratch hit today separated the Newsom, Washington's husky right-hand pitcher, from baseball's hall fame as he shut out the Detroiters 5-to-0 in the best pitched game ever turned out.

It was his 11th victory of the year. Lou Gehrig, in Irving, Boston's first baseman, hit one of New York's 10 toches between first and second, the Blaue and Kuhel went after the Blaue managed to stop it but one got to the buck quickly enough to beat Burns. Many thought Kuhel had drawn an error for not letting Blaue handle the ball, but the went down as a foul.

Two gave the White Sox an 8-to-2 victory over the Red Sox, halted the team's five-game winning streak and tied the series at one game each. Ernest Kennedy went the route for Chicago. He held Boston to seven and although he gave 10 bases balls, won his sixth game in a and 10th of the season.

ST. LOUIS, July 10.—(P)—An examination of Paul Dean's today disclosed no infections that are causing the recurrent sore trouble of the St. Louis Cardinal pitcher. Dr. Robert E. Hyland club doctor said that the 30-year-old diagnosed Dean's arm condition as pulled tendon and advised the pitcher that working lightly each day will probably bring him back into shape for active duty.

Dean has had only four days since June 17, when he took a mound assignment against the New York Giants today. Instead, under Frank Frisch nominated Bill Baker.

ferred an inducement, Montgomery none. He moved it to Arkansas.

21 YEARS IN DIXIE.

Bob Allen has been 21 years in the Southern association—almost a quarter of a century.

No one ever quite understood how he managed to keep going. He never drew many crowds at Little Rock. The team was forced to have league help a great many years. But it came through.

And now at Knoxville he is going along. There are few men as smart as he at judging—finding—and developing young players. And he has yet to lose on a deal.

Yesterday his team gave him a sour present—that pop-eyed game in which the Crackers slaughtered them.

But still it was quite a day—50 years in baseball. And another birthday. And still going strong.

He shook his head when asked about the best player he ever saw—he just shook his head. But if he would answer he'd say "Bill Lang."

Ask any of the old-timers about Bill Lang. He was the Ty Cobb of his era.

A DAY FOR HITTING.

Yesterday was a day for hitting on all fronts.

And there was a tie-up on Bob Allen's birthday story.

Chuck Klein hit four home runs in one game to tie a modern record set by Lou Gehrig in 1932. It was a new National league record.

Two old-timers, hitting trickery pitching and a dead ball, but in smaller parks, had hit four home runs in a single game. One of them was Ed Delahanty, with the Phillies in 1896. He was playing with Bob Allen when the two started out in baseball. The other was Bob Lowe, of the old Braves, in 1892.

Lou Gehrig hit two home runs yesterday.

And in Atlanta Paul Richards belted two to help wreck Bob Allen's birthday afternoon.

It was quite a day for hitting. And while Babe Ruth's record looks very good just now there is a chance that one of these fellows will crack his record of 60 in a season.

THE ULTIMATE.

The home run, despite the lively ball which makes the four-base hit relatively easy, remains the ultimate thrill.

This was why they always liked Ruth. He was never trying for the puny single or the ordinary two-base hit. He was trying for the ultimate. Which was why even his strikeouts were exciting.

Rogers Hornsby is not generally remembered as a home run hitter. And yet he was. He had a lifetime record of 301 home runs. Ruth, Gehrig and Hornsby are the greatest home run hitters.

Ruth never had four consecutive home runs. Twice he had three in a single game.

Yet the Babe delivered when the ducks were on the pond, as the boys say. Sixteen times he hit home runs with the bases full.

And his world series record is unique. After all, there was just one Babe.

Kirby Admits Fund Quest Critical

NEW YORK, July 10.—(UPI)—On the eve of final tryouts for the men's Olympic team, officials of the Gustave T. Kirby, chairman of the American Olympic committee, announced that the fund-raising situation was "so critical" that it still is uncertain how many of the 22 United States teams will be able to go to the games.

Following a lengthy meeting of the Olympic administration committee, Kirby revealed that the campaign to raise $227,000 showed a deficit of $75,436.10 in actual cash. Kirby emphasized that this deficit is not including an additional $30,000 in operating expenses of the Olympic committee during the next year, nor $25,000 owed by the committee to the Olympic association.

However, Kirby admitted that his committee had promises of various amounts from the public, including $10,000 to receive an additional $30,000 from receipts at the Randall's Island men's tryouts tomorrow and Sunday. He said all except four teams had given assurances today of being able to raise before sailing time on Wednesday funds enough to pay their respective teams' expenses. "But we have been getting assurances like this for the past six weeks," he added dryly.

Potts Beats Hines In Four-Set Match

SPARTANBURG, S. C., July 10.—(UPI)—Ramses Potts, a tenacious-striking young colt from Memphis, blasted National Star Wilmer Hines out of the semi-final round of the mid-Dixie tennis tournament to day in a furious four-set match.

Hines, ranked No. 9 nationally, went down to defeat before the young-spirited Potts, No. 3 in the south, 6-2, 8-6, 8-10, 6-2.

The defeat scuttled the sixth annual mid-Dixie tournament. Ranked No. 1 for the meet, Hines had been top favorite to go to the finals.

Tomorrow, in Spartanburg, pit Potts, and Sue Gandy, Guernsey, C., while Hines and Bumby Lawrence, of Los Angeles, meet Russell Bobbitt, of Atlanta, and Tony Morris, of Havana, Cuba.

Savannah Outfielder Released to Augusta

SAVANNAH, Ga., July 10.—(UPI)—Manager Bob Lamotte, of the Savannah Indians, has released Outfielder George Lankford to the Augusta team of the Sally League.

Lamotte also announced release of "Red" McKenzie, first baseman suffering from a knee injury.

Princeton, Comer Will Battle Today

ATHENS, Ga., July 10.—(UPI)—The Comer-Princeton fracas in the Free State Baseball league is holding the spotlight in this week's play. The two teams meet in Comer this afternoon.

Comer will be making great efforts to stretch its winning streak to five straight and also increase its percentage in the loop race. At the present date, Comer is in first place, while Princeton is in second position.

Crawford meets Whitehall in the other contest scheduled this afternoon. Crawford has a slightly stronger team than Whitehall, and will be favored to win.

Health Day Will Be Observed At Camp Highland on Monday

Health Day will be observed on Monday at Camp Highland, the Y. W. C. A. camp, located 12 miles from Atlanta, just off the Marietta highway. Every girl in camp will be weighed; health talks will be emphasized and activities will be climaxed by election of "Miss Health Senior" and "Miss Health Junior" so as to include all the campers from 9 to 12 years, as well as those from 13 to 18 years. Miss Anna Prudom, the director, announces that registrations are open for the last two weeks of adolescent camp, July 16-23 and July 23-30, but she advises those planning to attend to register at the Atlanta office, as it has been necessary to close registrations several times this season.

"Shouting Shorts," the weekly newspaper published at camp, pictures many activities which keep campers busy, happy and stimulated by learning, drama, land and water sports by sharing wholesome comradeship and enjoying life in the open. On the staff last week were Miss Margaret Clark, editor; Miss Margaret Shaw, news editor; Miss Imogene Brand and Miss Virginia Williams, feature writers; Miss Mary Alta Horn, joke editor, and Miss Barbara Henry, counselor. On Monday evening the music club under the direction of Miss Mildred Chandler will have an "International Night," singing folk songs of other lands and countries. Both the senior and junior dramatic groups will present "Face to Face with Mike" and "The Rehearsal." Miss Frances Dominic is counselor of dramatics and folk dancing.

The question of paramount interest is the crowning of "Who will be Miss Highland." For the crowning of the best all-round camper July 23 is the highlight of the entire season.

Miss McLaughlin Weds Mr. Echols

A marriage of beauty and dignity was performed of Miss Ruth McLaughlin, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John H. McLaughlin, of Decatur, to Earl E. Echols, which was solemnized yesterday morning at 9 o'clock at the Immaculate Conception church. Rev. Father Henry L. Phillips performed the ceremony.

The wedding program was rendered by R. A. Tomlinson, the organ assisted by Mrs. Ida Davis, Miss Maria Kullen, Walter Maurer and R. L. Mallard. "I Love You Truly" and "At Dawn" were sung preceding the entrance of the wedding party. Palm, fern and lily decorations were placed on the altar, alternating with graceful candelabras holding white tapers.

Miss Juliet Edwards was the bride's only attendant. She wore powder, a corsage with pink roses and carried a bouquet of pink roses and delphinium. Ushers were Walter Blackstock Jr. and Walter McLaughlin.

The lovely bride entered with her father, by whom she was given in marriage, and they were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Harry H. McLaughlin Jr. and his brother.

The bride wore a white satin and lace dress. Her finger tip veil was worn coronet fashion and was held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried violet lilies and bride's roses.

Mrs. McLaughlin, mother of the bride, was gowned in navy blue lace. Her shoulder bouquet was white gauze. Mrs. Echols, mother of the groom, wore lavender crepe and a shoulder corsage of white gauze.

After the marriage the bride and groom were entertained at a breakfast given by the bride's brother, Harry H. McLaughlin Jr., at the Ansley hotel for the family and close friends. The exquisitely appointed table was centered by a three-tiered cake topped by a miniature bride and groom.

Mr. Echols and his bride left on a motor trip. The bride traveled in a two-piece suit of tan with brown and white accessories and wore a corsage of white roses and valley lilies.

Out-of-town guests were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. George P. Carter, and aunt, Mrs. Gladys Tunstall, of Mobile, Ala.

7 ARE DEAD, 98 ILL IN ALABAMA EPIDEMIC

Infantile Paralysis Causes Postponement of State Legion Meeting.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 10.—(P)—Alabama's death toll from infantile paralysis jumped to seven to-night, resulting in the indefinite postponement of the American Legion's state convention, scheduled for Huntsville next week.

The health department here listed the sixth victim as Maheline Jackson, 23-month-old negro girl of Limestone county, and Dr. Frank Stitt, of Wetumpka, reported the death of Judy Bell Martin, 4, of Wetumpka.

Dr. Francis Marion Inge, state commander of the American Legion, announced "indefinite postponement" of the Legion's convention, scheduled at Huntsville July 19-21, "on advice from the state board of health."

There were 16 newly diagnosed cases reported today, all of them in the northern tier of counties most severely affected. The total diagnosed since July 1 stand at 98.

Today's reports showed seven new cases in Limestone county, two in Morgan county, three in Colbert, and one each in Cullman, Winston, Lawrence, and Lauderdale counties.

Dr. W. C. Hale, director of the health department's bureau of epidemiology, said: "The poliomyelitis epidemic is continuing to spread and is daily becoming more serious." He warned gatherings of children or adults and prohibited the advertising and adjoining counties.

In Cullman county a horse show scheduled for July 17 was canceled, a singing convention set for July 11-12 postponed, and churches closed to those less than 18 years of age "until the danger passes." Eleven ministers voted for limiting church services to adults.

Colleges have canceled a series of meetings for young people. CCC enrollment in the Decatur district was called off, and a tour of Muscle Shoals by 4-H Club members was eliminated.

INJUNCTION ISSUED IN HOISERY STRIKE

Union Case Against Mill Will Be Heard in October.

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C., July 10.—(P)—Judge Walter L. Small continued an injunction today against 27 pickets and dismissed a blanket proceeding against Local 119 of the American Federation of Hosiery Mill Workers.

The action was brought by the Elizabeth City Hosiery Company, which has Elizabeth City and Avanton plants which were closed down by strikes a few weeks ago. The case is set for disposition at the October term of superior court.

Judge Small suggested that in event of difficulty pickets at the mill be limited to two at each entrance. The union men, he said, are not to go to the mill, but the pickets will go to the extent of intimidating would-be workers by their number.

He added that nothing in his order "shall be construed to prohibit any individual or defendant from exercising his right to appear at any public place, to speak, to shout, to shout, or to assemble peacefully, or to use peaceful persuasion so long as he does not resort to intimidation, persuasion or threats of violence."

HONDURAS TO QUIT LEAGUE OF NATIONS

GENEVA, July 10.—(P)—Official notification of the withdrawal of Honduras from the League of Nations was received today, effective June 20, 1935.

The Honduran government at Tegucigalpa issued a decree last June 20 declaring its withdrawal, the final separation to be two years later. Honduras is one of the original League members.

REPUBLICAN QUESTIONS NEW DEAL'S PROGRAM

Governor Landon Remains Silent on Farm Problems; F. D. R. Hit.

TOPEKA, Kan., July 10.—(P)—Two participants in the significant Landon-Lowden conference contributed views to the discussions of representative farm plans today, one emphasizing new bounds that would be set by the new deal, the other questioning the New Deal's program.

Senator Arthur Capper, of Kansas, who sat the luncheon table while Governor Alf M. Landon and Frank O. Lowden talked farm problems yesterday, said the Illinois leader had "faced squarely the fact that some folks are trying to dodge for fear it will bring antagonism in certain quarters."

"The bounties to farmers who operate in a national soil conservation program will have to be continued," Capper quoted Lowden as saying.

The presidential nominee affirmed this statement at the press conference.

Representative Clifford R. Hope, of Kansas, who also heard the Landon-Lowden conversations, issued a statement at the governor's office in which he said President Roosevelt had made the "astounding inference" that a 10 per cent increase in wheat and cornage had been part of the administration's program "all along."

"Until the President spoke," Hope said, "no intimation had come out of Washington that the administration had any other idea in mind than a reduction in these crops. Now that the drought is threatening a scarcity of food and feed crops and it appears that the reduction program was a mistake, the administration is attempting to get out in front and lead the parade the other way."

Hope, who is ranking republican on the house agriculture committee, said that a month ago the farmer who reduced his acreage "was doing the right thing according to the administration program, but that today 'the ones who are doing the right thing are exiled by the President.'

Beyond saying that he enjoyed the conference very much, Landon had no comment today on the farm views outlined by Lowden. His July 23 acceptance speech is expected to deal with the farm problem particularly.

EMPLOYEES' LEAGUE

PITTSBURGH, July 10.—(P)—Weirton, W. Va., employees of the Weirton Steel Company said today they had organized an employees' security league to "oppose any and all attempts to disturb the satisfactory conditions under which we are working."

Seven special trains carrying Townsend delegates are due to arrive in Cleveland and Pittsburgh. Thirty special trains in motor caravans from distant points is estimated at 12,000 to 15,000. But thousands of other Townsend members living in a day's driving distance from Cleveland and Pittsburgh will be among those of those visitors there will be.

The convention arrangements committee, composed of Young, Frank A. Arbuckle, of Los Angeles, and Dr. Frank Dyer, convention secretary, has arranged for 6,000 hotel rooms and 4,000 rooms in private homes and 4,000 rooms in restaurants.

Young is anticipating that as many as 30,000 visitors and delegates may attend the coming convention. Cleveland by special train and in motor caravans from distant points is estimated at 12,000 to 15,000. But thousands of other Townsend members living in a day's driving distance from Cleveland and Pittsburgh will be among those of those visitors there will be.

The usual committee of business will consist of the convention's committee that is offered and whipping them into shape.

According to Young, the Townsend members will be 31,000 active members and there are 2,000 Townsend clubs in the United States, more than double the number a year ago.

The dues, paid only by active members, started out at 10 cents year. This amount was increased to 12 cents in 1934, to 15 cents in 1935, with 40 per cent of the amounts collected going to the state managers for organization work in their state.

One of the principal matters to come before the convention, Young said, will be to devise means of obtaining 5,000 new members by November.

Sentiment Towards Third Party Is Disclaimed by Townsendites

Old Age Pension Convention Will Open Wednesday in Cleveland; Drive for New Members Will Be Studied by Leaders of Group.

(Copyright, 1936, by North American News paper Alliance, Inc.)

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 10.—Organization of a new political party or amalgamation with the Lemke-union third party is not on the program of the national Townsend convention which opens Wednesday in Cleveland. Townsend, father of the old age revolving pension plan, will speak and there will be a musical program. R. J. Birch, chairman of the convention delegation, committee and president of the Cleveland Heights Townsend Club, will be master of ceremonies.

Convention sessions will be held in Cleveland's public hall, where the Republican party last month picked Gov.

Lowden, of Kansas, as its standard bearer.

Lowden's talk on farm problems yesterday was made Friday by Gilmore Young, national secretary of the Townsend organization.

"There is no official thought of a third party at the present time," Young said. "Whatever the convention decides, it will have to come spontaneously from the delegates themselves."

In the estimation of the leaders of the Townsend movement, the main business before the Cleveland convention movement on a more systematic basis in such matters as organization, the assessment of dues and a drive for new members. The leaders expect to continue their efforts to control congressional elections. They claim now that control of the House in 1938 will be able to be able to control the outcome of congressional elections in 25 states by November.

If there is any concerted demand among the Townsend members themselves to form a new political party or join up with the Lemke and Fairbanks groups, the leaders of the Townsend movement expect to control the national administrative board to do this.

This is composed of the "citizen maximus," a group of 48 persons including Raymond J. Jeffries, of Cleveland, is Ohio's "citizen maximus," chosen at a state Townsend convention in Columbus recently.

The keynote speech will be delivered by the Wednesday morning opening session of the convention by Dr. A. Case, treasurer of the state of Washington. Beyond that the program is uncertain and subject to the whims of the convention. The usual committee on resolutions, credentials and of business will be appointed.

Until the convention committee starts to submit reports to the convention, most of the business will consist of listening to inspirational and educational speeches.

There will be possibly 200 resolutions submitted to the convention.

It is Dr. Lowden's idea that the convention should pass a resolution that is raised. The work of the convention's committee will be largely the sorting out of the various resolutions that are offered and whipping them into shape.

According to Young, the Townsend members will be 31,000 active members and there are 2,000 Townsend clubs in the United States, more than double the number a year ago.
